Did you know.... "In the mid-1930s, a swimming coach from Colgate University decided to take his team down to Florida for some early training at a brand-new Olympic-size pool in sunny Fort Lauderdale. The idea clicked with other college swim coaches and soon the spring training migration became an annual tradition for swimmers nationwide. Now, spring break is an academic tradition in various, mostly western countries, that is scheduled for different periods depending on the state and sometimes the region."

"In the United States, spring break at universities, colleges, and many K-12 school systems can take place from March to April, depending on term dates and when the Easter holiday falls. Spring break is usually a week or two long, although some schools schedule it for the last week of March, with separate days off for the Easter holiday."

Trout Release

The whole school went to Brandy Creek to release the rainbow trout that Mrs. Hills's class had been raising in their classroom. Everyone had an amazing time! We didn't get to see every booth, but we really enjoyed the nature hunt. Jason spotted a Scorpion. After we released the fish we had a picnic lunch at Oak Bottom, and the kids found a tepee.

Field Trip

Mrs. Hill will be taking Mattie and Jason, our 8th-graders, to their first rally at Shasta High School. The Freshmen Incoming Rally is a High School Rally, an academic tradition that began in 1909 at LSU. In its first year, contests included both academic and athletic events. High school students could compete in events such as English composition, debate, speech, chorus, spelling, booths for clubs, and a tour to see their classes.... They will leave at about 9:30 and return a little bit before 2:00.
