SHASTA CAVERNS FIELD TRIP FOLLOW UP

Ms Hill's class went to the Shasta Caverns on Tuesday (sorry about the day mix up in last week's newsletter). No doubt you heard about the numerous stairs that needed to be climbed both to get to the caverns and explore it within. The steps were worth it as you can see in this beautiful photograph taken by Jason Graham. If your child was on the field trip ask him/her to explain to you the geological processes that took place in the formation of the caverns. Thank you to Mr. Dude who helped with transportation.

Our lower elementary class will take a morning trip to Whiskeytown Lake next Thursday, Oct 19, to learn about the floral and fauna of the national recreational park in our backyard. The class has been learning about why national parks and recreation areas were established. They will be hiking in the Brandy Creek area of the park. In the meantime the class has ventured down to Clear Creek to check out the salmon that are spawning near Kris Exparza's home.

FRENCH GULCH VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT OPEN HOUSE

Don't forget that Saturday the Flare Ups are hosting their annual community event in support of our local fire department. This fund raising event features a great lunch at a bargain price as well as a bake sale by legendary FG bakers. A community garage sale will be taking place too. Come and see your neighbors, find some treasures, fill your stomachs with delicious food while supporting our amazing local fire department.
